Books

Here are a selection of recent large print books for all interests.

Gregory, Philippa.

The Red Queen

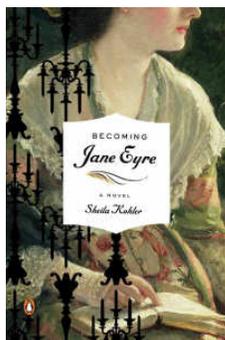

Determined to see her son Henry on the throne of England, pious Margaret Beaufort arranges politically advantageous marriages, sends her son out of the country for his safety, and lays secret plans for a battle between the houses of York and Lancaster. This is the next in a series, following last year's bestseller: The White Queen.

Kohler, Sheila.

Becoming Jane Eyre

A beautifully imagined tale of the Bronte sisters, "Becoming Jane Eyre" delicately unravels the connections between one of fiction's most indelible heroines and the remarkable woman who created her.

Lescroart, John T.

Treasure Hunt

P.I.s Mickey Dade and Wyatt Hunt investigate the death of one of San Francisco's most high-profile activists. Dominic Como was known as much for his expensive suits as his work on several nonprofit boards. What could his business associate Alicia Thorpe, the sister of one of Mickey's friends, have to do with Como's demise?

Reichs, Kathy.

Spider Bones

John Lowery was declared dead in 1968. Four decades later, Temperance Brennan investigates a drowning, the victim is later identified as John Lowery. How did an American soldier end up dead again in Canada? Tempe exhumes "Lowery's" grave in North Carolina and takes the remains to the headquarters of JPAC, the U.S. military's Joint POW/ MIA Accounting Command, which strives to recover Americans who have died in past conflicts.

Francis, Dick.

Crossfire

Shell-shocked from his tour of duty in Afghanistan, Tom Forsyth returns to his estranged mother's house for the first time since age seventeen.

His mother, Josephine Kauri, the "first lady of British racing," is being blackmailed and forced to make her horses lose. She fears exposure and ridicule and potentially prison if the government finds out what she's been hiding. Can Tom save his mother's reputation, or will he find himself caught in the cross fire?

Lehrer, Jim.

Super

In the tradition of Murder on the Orient Express, PBS' Jim Lehrer brings together a cast of characters as fascinating as the historic train that will carry them from Chicago to Los Angeles. Among them are a once-great Hollywood producer, a dying millionaire, actor Clark Gable, and former president Harry Truman. As the Super Chief pulls out of Dearborn Station, the passengers can't possibly imagine that, as the train gains speed, a series of deadly events will unfold.

Parker, Robert B.

Brimstone

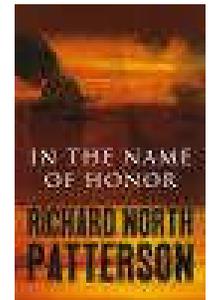

Determined to locate a woman he loves who inexplicably ran off, hired gunman Virgil Cole, along with deputy Everett Hitch, makes his way across New Mexico and Texas before finding her in a brothel, a situation complicated by a religious man and saloon violence.

Patterson, Richard North.

In the Name of Honor

Capt. Paul Terry, one of the army's most accomplished young lawyers, must defend Brian McCarran, a general's son who recently returned from a harrowing tour in Iraq. In the high-profile court-martial, Terry is joined by Brian's sister, Meg McCarran, who leaves her practice in San Francisco to help save her brother. Before the case is over, Terry will become deeply entwined with Meg and the McCarrans--and learn that families, like war, can break the sturdiest of souls.

Schine, Cathleen.

The Three Weissmanns of Westport

In this enchanting homage to Jane Austen's beloved Sense and Sensibility, Betty, dumped by her husband of nearly fifty years and exiled from their New York apartment by his mistress, moves to a small beach cottage in Westport, Conn. Joining her are daughters Miranda, an impulsive but successful literary agent, and Annie, a pragmatic library director, who begin to mingle with Westport's suburban aristocracy.

Wishnia, K. J. A.

The Fifth Servant

In 1592 Prague, Emperor Rudolph II sits on the throne; the Papal Inquisitor has arrived to persecute witches and heretics; and the city's Jews live behind the walls of the ghetto. When the body of a young Christian girl is found in a Jewish shop on the eve of Passover, a blood libel charge is brought against the shopkeeper. The relative peace enjoyed by the Jewish community is in peril, and a rabbinic student just arrived from Poland must find the real culprit.

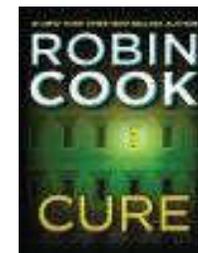

MYSTERY/THRILLERS

Cook, Robin.

Cure

NY medical examiner Laurie Montgomery's autopsy results of CIA agent Kevin Markham's are inconclusive. Though it appears he's been poisoned, toxicology fails to corroborate Laurie's suspicions. Together with her husband, fellow medical examiner Jack Stapleton, she discovers associations to a large pharmaceutical company and several biomedical start-ups dealing with stem-cell research. It's a race to connect the dots in a dangerous game of biotech espionage.

Fluke, Joanne.

Apple Turnover Murder

Hannah has excellent reasons to despise the caddish Bradford Ramsey, as do many other women. Nevertheless, she'd rather not expose her youthful indiscretions, especially to her policeman beau. Hannah is very busy with the mayor's wife Lake Eden, Minn. charity event at which Ramsey is host. So what should she say when she stumbles upon his murdered corpse?
